Students may also pay Course Materials and Services Fees which vary by course. Summer session tuition and fees are billed separately. New students pay a one-time Document Fee ($150). Students are required to purchase health insurance ($2,286 per year) unless they have comparable insurance coverage. The SISS International Student Administrative Fee is paid by entering and continuing international undergraduates in F-1 or J-1 visa status ($86 per quarter/$258 Annually). As approved by the UC Regents in July 2018 (effective Fall 2018), Tuition was reduced to reflect the elimination of the temporary $60 surcharge built into Tuition to cover costs associated with the judgement of the Kashmiri and Luquette lawsuits.

Who sets tuition and fee levels?

Systemwide tuition and fees are set by the UC Regents and are consistent across all UC campuses. Campus-based fees vary by campus. The Chancellor is authorized to establish fees such as Course Materials and Services Fees, user fees, deposits, administrative service charges and fees to fund life safety programs. Most campus-based fees are approved by student vote with ongoing review by student committees.

What financial aid programs does the University of California offer to students?
The University has several programs to assist students with paying tuition and fees:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Program</th>
<th>Details</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The Blue and Gold Opportunity Plan</td>
<td>Covers base tuition and fees for qualifying California residents whose household income is less than $80,000 per year.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Aggie Grant Plan</td>
<td>This program was developed specifically for UC Davis students, and covers up to 30 percent of base tuition and fees for qualifying California residents whose household income is between $80,000 and $120,000 per year, and parent assets below $200,000 (excluding personal residence).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>University Student Aid Program</td>
<td>Financial aid for qualifying students derived from revenue from increases in Tuition and the Student Services Fee.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Middle Class Scholarship</td>
<td>Implemented in 2014-15, California’s new Middle Class Scholarship (MCS) program applies to undergraduate students with family incomes up to $171,000, and household assets of no more than $171,000 who attend a University of California or California State University campus. MCS awards will be based on a sliding scale according to family income and amounts will vary by student and institution. MCS will cover between 10% and 40% of systemwide tuition and fees.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Scholarships</td>
<td>Scholarships are highly competitive and awarded based on academic merit. New students are considered based on their UC admission application. Continuing undergraduate applications are available each fall quarter, one academic year prior to awarding, and are due in early January.</td>
</tr>
